

GUIDED CHOCOLATE TASTINGS

A DELICIOUS SENSORY JOURNEY

You will experience a whole new world of fine chocolate, beyond anything you ever imagined! Join chocolate expert Lauren Adler as she leads you on a journey of sensory exploration. A pioneer in the craft chocolate industry, Lauren creates engaging experiences that change the way you taste chocolate.

Taste Chocolate

Similar to a wine tasting, a guided chocolate tasting is a journey in sensory exploration. It encourages you to savor and appreciate fine chocolate as a luxurious treat, looking beyond the sugary sweet of your childhood.

During your custom tasting event, chocolate expert Lauren Adler will lead guests in a guided tasting of five single-origin chocolates made by some of the best chocolate makers in the world.

Guests will walk away with an understanding of how chocolate is made from the bean, what elements contribute to the terroir of cacao and how to read ingredient labels when evaluating chocolate for purchase.

How it Works

Lauren leads tastings in bespoke formats to suit the group size and venue. Each guest receives a tasting "placemat" with space to record tasting notes and a Chocolopolis flavor wheel postcard. Hosts provide a hard surface for the tasting placemat, a glass of lukewarm water and access to a TV or projector so Lauren can share photos and visual aids.

Experiences

Our standard tasting experiences come in two sizes. The Starter Package includes six bite-sized squares of chocolate to be enjoyed during the guided tasting experience. Our Luxury Package includes five full-size chocolate bars that guests can take home at the end of the evening to share with friends and family. Have something unique in mind? Reach out to us and let us craft a custom experience for your event!
